Pediatrics and Proxy Access

Your family's secure online health connection.

For you. For life.

How does proxy access work?

With proxy access, clinicians can give parents access to their children's MyChart accounts, give a husband or wife access to a spouse's MyChart account, or give caregivers access to the MyChart accounts of those for whom they care. Proxy access can look different for different scenarios.

Child younger than 12:

- Message a provider
- See medications
- Request a refill
- See past and future appointments
- Schedule an appointment
- See test results
- See immunization history

Teenager age 12-17:

- Message a provider
- Request a refill
- Schedule an appointment
- See immunization history

Adults age 18 or older or for those with diminished capacity (any age):

- Message a provider
- See medications
- Request a refill
- See past and future appointments
- Schedule an appointment
- See test results
- See immunization history
